Confused today, read the notes clipped to the end of her bed. She forgets things she should knowwhat year it is, major events in the lives of her children. But she remembers things that dont seem possible. She remembers marrying Mark and having four children. And she remembers not marrying Mark and raising three children with Bee instead. She remembers the bomb that killed President Kennedy in 1963, and she remembers Kennedy in 1964, declining to run again after the nuclear exchange that took out Miami and Kiev. Her childhood, her years at Oxford during the Second World Warthose were solid things. But after that, did she marry Mark or not Did her friends all call her Trish, or Pat Had she been a housewife who escaped a terrible marriage after her children were grown, or a successful travel writer with homes in Britain and Italy And the moon outside her window: does it host a benign research station, or a command post bristling with nuclear missilesTwo lives, two worlds, two versions of modern history; each with their loves and losses, their sorrows and triumphs.
