It relates to the fourth paragraph of the first Communion Rubric. I have examined it three or four times with the Manuscript Book. THE LoRn CHANcEi.LoR.--We will of course accept your statement about it. DR. SrEPHENS.--I beg to hand to your Lordships the memorandum made by Mr. Pullman. He kindly examined the MS. Book with me. THE LoRn OHANCELLOR.--AS I understand it, it was first in this shape: -- The table at the Communion time having a fair white linen cloth upon it, -shall stand in a convenient place --DR. SrEPHENS.-- Stand in the, and then there is an erasure. THE LoR1) CHANcEL1.oR.-- In the, . convenient place in the upper end of the chancel, (or of the body of the church where there is no chancel.) And the priest standing at the North part of the table shall say the Lord s Prayer with the collect following, the people kneeling. Then Mr. Pullman adds this note: -- The words struck through are struck out in the manuscript and the words interlined in red ink are inserted in lieu of them and are in a different handwriting. It appears from the photozincograph that after the words stand in the, body was substituted for the word most. However, the result was, that it now comes out in this form: shall stand in the body of the church or in the chancel, where Morning and Evening Prayer are appointed to be...
